Agenda Item 1. UAS Teacher Preparation Program Presentation

Commissioner Johnson explained to the board that they would be briefed on the current teacher preparation programs offered by the University of Alaska Southeast’s Alaska College of Education and the results of its most recent accreditation visit by the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP). Dr. Dean Atwater and Dean Scott Christian provided an overview of the UAS education program and described how they met the CAEP accreditation standards along with the CAEP accreditation process. They informed the board that UAS’ Alaska College of Education received full accreditation in both the initial and advanced programs for the five years until the spring of 2025. They also updated the board on changes that the UA Board of Regents implemented at their last board meeting including changing the name of the UA Education Unit to the UA School of Education, moving the UAF school of education and the UAA school out of their existing colleges to become independent academic units, and to create a college of education consortium that will be comprised of the directors of each of the units, as well as faculty and some members from statewide as well as a liaison so this action moves us away from playing a lead role in the system and can be viewed as a leveling of the playing field. Although the university system is undergoing a big change, Dr. Atwater stressed that on the program level, the student will not feel the changes as they enroll and go through the School of Education. UA Interim President Pat Pitney also assisted with the discussion and took questions from the board.

Agenda Item 2. UAA School of Education Early Childhood BA
Commissioner Johnson informed the board that they would be briefed on a proposed plan to regain initial program accreditation through the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) and state-approval by the University of Alaska Anchorage (UAA). Provost Denise Runge of UAA presented to the board their proposal for the School of Education Early Childhood Bachelor of Arts (BA). As of now, UAA offers a certificate and an associate's degree in the field of early childhood education. They also offer advanced programs in educational leadership special education and language education which underwent evaluation by CAEP for accreditation and are awaiting a decision in the fall regarding those programs. She briefed the board and gave them some advanced information about steps that UAA is taking so that they could initially license teachers at the preschool through three level through the addition of a new BA in early childhood education. She noted that the degree has been created and approved through the UAS School of Education process, but has not yet been approved by the Board of Regents. Dr. Hilary Seitz joined Provost Runge as they explained to the board what the degree would look like and then took questions. The board asked that the UAA system bring back more detailed information to them which detailed their focus on reading in this program. Commissioner Johnson committed to the board that he would not bring something to the board for their approval without making sure that it has been thoroughly vetted so that it can be successful.

Agenda Item 3. Legislative and Budget Update
Heidi Teshner, Director of Finance and Support Services, and Lacey Sanders, Administrative Services Director, briefed the board on the status of the department’s FY2022 budget, including any changes made to the budgets through the House and Senate Finance Subcommittees and Conference Committee. As of June 10, the budget had not passed and the legislature had until June 18 to do so. Director Teshner briefed the board on the three pieces of legislation that passed during session that impacted the Department of Education. House Bill 73 extended the COVID-19 disaster emergency and was signed into law on April 30. House Bill 100 reauthorizes the technical vocational education program, also known as TVEP for an additional three years so through June 30, 2024. Senate Bill 19 reauthorizes the Special Education Services Agency, also known as SESA, for an additional eight years and increase the funding allocation from $18.65 to $23.13 times the average daily membership. Although the reading bill did not pass this session, the legislature is working to get a revised draft to work on in the interim or next session.

Director Sanders gave the board an update on the budget. As of this meeting, the legislature was still working to pass a budget during their special session and the 30-day deadline of the special session was June 18. Director Sanders will give the board a more complete picture of the budget once it has been passed by the legislature. She anticipates that this update could occur at the next state board meeting.

Agenda Item 4. Adoption of English Language Proficiency Standards Regulations and English Language Exit Criteria Regulations
Commissioner Johnson asked the board to approve in their business meeting the adoption of proposed amendments to regulations involving the assessment of English learners, including revised exit criteria for English learners and updated English language proficiency standards. Deb Riddle, Division Operations Manager, and Tammy Van Wyhe, Director of the Division of Innovation and Education Excellence provided a brief overview of the regulations to refresh the board’s memory and took questions from the board. This regulations packet was put out for public comment and received positive feedback during the public comment period.

Agenda Item 5. MEHS School Advisory Board Appointments
Commissioner Johnson asked the board to approve in their business meeting the appointment of three members to the Mt. Edgecumbe High School (MEHS) Advisory Board. MEHS Superintendent Janelle Vanasse introduced the board to Dorothy Chase, Lydia Agnus, and Marry Suzzuk via their applications and gave a brief history of the advisory board’s seats that were being filled. Two seats that were open, one alumni representative and one parent representative as well as a second parent position that was vacated during the year and stayed unfilled until the time came to reappoint the seat. Member Stockhausen spoke to her support of the candidates listed as she is the board’s representative to the MEHS Advisory Board. Member Van Diest asked the board to consider what steps needed to be taken to transition the MEHS Advisory Board to a regular school board instead of the state board filling that role as the MEHS Advisory Board is more directly involved in the operations of MEHS. Commissioner Johnson will research the issue and get back to the board but he mentioned that it is most likely a statutory issue as MEHS exists in statute.

Agenda Item 6. MEHS Credit Requirements Updates
Commissioner Johnson asked the board to approve in their business meeting the recommended adjustments to the MEHS credit requirements. The recommendations do not adjust the total number of credits but do expand the classes that can be taken for specific requirements. Superintendent Vanasse walked the board through the curriculum changes and took questions from the board. She detailed the three credit adjustments that needed adjusting were the existing “technology credit” that was put in place when computers were new to the education environment previously only accepted courses that were computer-based. With an increase of time in this credit requirement, the recommendation is to expand to include career and technology classes to allow students to choose courses most aligned with their post-secondary plans. The PE and Health 2.0 credit requirement required students to spend the equivalent of 80 minutes per day for a full year equivalent. Adjusting the credit requirement to 1.5 will hold the same amount of time for this subject area that is more time-based. The extra 0.5 will be shifted to elective credit. In the previous system, Alaska History was provided as a 1.0 credit class. The recommendation is to meet the requirement with a 0.5 credit class and allow the student to choose an elective social studies class to complete the same 4.0 credits of required social studies. The board stressed the fact that issues like these could be decided by the MEHS Advisory Board if they were able to operate as a school board and encouraged a further discussion on ways that they could give the MEHS Advisory Board more authority in which to make decisions on topics such as credit requirements and curriculum. Superintendent Vanasse and Commissioner Johnson will continue to work on the issue and bring back recommendations to the board as they have them.
